

Bachelor of Science

Health Administration & Education

Program Overview

The Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree in Health Administration & Education combines administration and education courses in a healthcare curriculum to allow degree completion and career advancement for the student with an associate degree in a health-related career. The degree provides the graduate with a sound foundation to enter the health industry or the academic environment. The curriculum places emphasis on the foundational skills needed in the development of managers, educators, and administrators in a variety of healthcare settings. Graduates will be prepared to educate entry-level practitioners as well as function as leaders and managers in a variety of health-related areas including businesses, government and volunteer agencies, outpatient clinics, hospitals, and industry. The B.S. degree in Health Administration & Education will provide the graduate with the ability to advance to higher degrees in education, business, and administration.
